Preface

In giving a short pedigree of the Willett family a few years ago, the "New England Genealogical and Historical Register" said "The following pedigree of the Willett family has been drawn from many sources, although brief and imperfect. We hope this attempt will meet the eye of someone who will be able to favor with a more full and perfect work. It is not at all impossible that the Rev. Andrew Willet of Barley England, was the father of Thomas Willett, as he had numerous issue."

Thirty years before this met the author's eye he had begun to collect data for a Willett Genealogy, being himself a desendant: and he now offers to the public the result of his researches. It is not perfect. It is not complete. It never will be. There will always be certain data wanting to complete the circle; and in the place of the missing links we must make use of circumstantial evidence. The perfect genealogy, like the perfect man, is yet to come. Perhaps they will come together. In the meantime, the best we can do, with the material obtainable, is to make it as perfect as possible.

GLEN WILLETS

It is not at all impossible that there are errors in this genealogy; and we will be pleased to have pointed out to us such as may be discovered. In the main, however, we believe it to be fairly perfect. There have been several attempts to compile the genealogy of a single branch of the Willett family, but this is the first time the entire family has been brought together in one grand reunion. The difference in the spelling of the name has been influenced by locality and habit, but the root was undoubtedly the same. In some cases it has been necessary, in the absence of documentary evidence, to fix dates and descent by circumstantial evidence — by the elimination of that which is not, or not likely, and to accept the residue as that which most likely is. A large portion portion of of this genealogy has been given the author in the past thirty years by old members of the family, who are now dead, and much of this information is not now obtainable from any other record. The blank pages are designed to be used to note corrections or additions as the reader may find them, or have them given them. In cases where there has been found conflicting records, they have been carefully weighed and the seemingly most correct adopted; a foot-note, or inserted paragraph, being made to give the other version.

As usual in genealogies, the letter "B" or "b" stands for "born", "D" or "d" for "died", and "M" or "m" for "married".

Where a date is uncertain, or approximate it is underscored

This genealogy was first arranged alphabetically but although that is the best way for ready reference, or to find a certain person, yet it does not seem to be so explanatory as the present arrangement, in branches.

The style of the print and binding is unique, and together with the fact that it is hand-made, will doubtless make it a rare valuable book.

Thanking those who have aided me in my work, I am

Very Truly Yours

Introductory

Origin of the name

1st. It is claimed that a Huguenot family by name of Villette fled from France to England and that the name became anglicized into Willett.

2nd. "Origin of Names" states that Willett came from William, Williams, Williamson, Wilkins, Wilks, Wilmot, Willis, Willot.

3rd It is said to have come from the name of Ouillette of France. I am inclined to favor the first though it might easily have been spelled Ouillette in the french. As to the english spelling it is spelled in many ways, Willet, Willett, Willets, Willetts, Willits, and occasionly Willette. A large Quaker branch in New Jersey and Pennsylvania insist on Willits, the Nova Scotia and Southern branches on the double t while the Long Island, New York and northern New Jersey branches vary their spelling. In England only two forms of spelling the name have been noted, that of Willet and Willett.

In England

In three localities in England we find records of the Willet family, in Leicester* in Essex and in Devonshire. The Devonshire family failing of male heirs in 1736, the estate was bequeathed to William Saltren whose eldest son, Augustus, assumed the name of Willett. He died in 1803 leaving a son, Augustus Saltren-Willett. The Essex branch we find little account of except that they spelled the name Willet and had the same coat-of-arms as that of Devonshire and were probably connected.

Coming to the Leicesleshire branch, we get within the pale of the Church of England. Here we find first the Rev Thomas Willet, Prebend of Ely and Sub Almoner to King Edward VI during his short reign. He was also Rector of Barley and was succeeded in all his ecclesiastical offices by his son Rev Andrew Willet the "Walking Library". Andrew's son Henry married the sister of the Bishop of London, and his great grandson, Ralph founded the famous "Mereley Library" at Mereley. Andrew had eighteen children, one of whom, Thomas Willett, settled in America, and became the first Mayor of New York City. Two or three others of the Willet family are said to have come to America, who will be noted in the proper place

* Probably Herts. See Appendix A

Willet

Coat-of-Arms.

The Coat-of-arms represented herein, seems to have been the same used by both the Willets and the Willetts. It is emblazoned as follows:

Argent, 3 bars gemells sable; in chief, as many lions rampant of the second color— Crest, on a ducal coronet or, a moorcock with wings expanded sable, combed and wattled gules. Symbolism— Argent (silver) sincerity or peace: Sable (black) constancy: Or (gold) generosity: Gules (red) military fortitude and magnanimity: Bars gemells (parallel) is a bearing of honor: A lion is one of the most ancient and honorable devices, a symbolism of courage: A ducal coronet, authority and leadership: A cock or a moorcock, being herald of the dawn, is an emblem of watchfulness and is granted to a hero on the field.

In America

The Willett emigrants to this country were, as far as ascertained, Thomas, Richard, Francis, Tobie, and Nathaniel*. They all came at an early date, about 1630-32. Thomas became the first mayor of New York and left a large line of descendants. Richard became a merchant in Brooklyn and also left a large number of descendants, one large branch of which were Friends or Quakers. Francis settled in New England and had quite a large family. Nathaniel settled at Hartford Conn, but as his family contained no males, the name

* and John

soon disappeared. Tobie we find no record except that of his shipping from England for America. As the name is sometimes used for Thomas, and as he came in 1632, it might be thought to be the Thomas spoken of were it not for the fact that he came from Leyden in the ship "Lion" while Tobie came from England in the ship "Planticon". It is claimed that Capt Thomas Willett of Flushing L.I. the father of Col. Thomas Willett, was born in England and came from Bristol. If this were true he might be this Tobie. We think, however, that Capt Thomas Willet was a son of the Hon Thomas Willett the mayor.

From these emigrants branches spredd out into New Jersey, Pennsylvania, western New York, into the south and into Canada and Nova Scotia; the latter being generally "royalist" refugees. One branch in Canada are descendants of Continental prisoners of war carried their from Virginia

Noted members

Rev. Thomas Willet, Barley England, a noted clergyman of the Church of England, 16th Century.

Rev. Andrew Willet, Barley England, noted Divine and author of "Synopsis Papisima" of which Cotton Mather said. "To encounter the Romanist you will be admirably furnished in Willet's 'Synopsis Papisima'." He wrote some forty other book, the title page of one, being reproduced in this book.

Rowland Willet, a relative of Rev. Andrew wrote a book entitled, "Merry Tests Concerning Popes, Monks & Friers"

Thomas Willet wrote "Buxom Joan", a burletta, 1778.

In Ameica, many members have been noted -

Thomas Willett, trader, soldier, arbitrator and the first mayor of New York

Odd notes

In 1780 Mitchell wrote to Washington that he had sent him mustard with Willet by express.

The day after the battle of the Brandywine, Howe wrote to Washington that the wounded Americans were so numerous he could not attend to them: and offered to receive any surgeon he might send. Washington sent Drs Rust, Latimer and Willet. It must have been Dr Samuel Willet of New Jersey.

Nov. 1863, Capt. Willetts, captured by the rebels on the steamer Chespeake was put in irons.

Dec 18 1864, G.F. Willett of 4th Cavalry was reported killed.

Legacies

This is a subject that never fails to interest every member of a family. The Willet family has two claims of this kind.

First. The Townley-Lawrence claim which is said to amount to One Hundred Millions of dollars, and is said to come through Mary Townley daughter of Sir Richard Townley of England. She married Joseph Lawrence and came to America about 1690. Hannah Lawrence, grand daughter of Mary Townley Lawrence married Abraham Willett about 1750. Elizabeth Lawrence, sister-in-law to Mary Townley Lawrence, married John Willett. Elizabeth Lawrence, niece of Mary Townly Lawrence, married Samuel Willett, and Deborah Lawrence another neice, married Jonathan Willett. A number of efforts have been made to secure this estate but so far without success.

Second - The Willett Claim. The amount of this claim is unknown. All that is known of it is as follows: Stephen Willett, son of Samuel Willett of New Jersey met a strangeron the cars who introduced himself as Rev Mr Willett an englishman of Long Island (probably Rev J. Willett founder of the Kings County Inebriate Home at Fort Lee) and told him that there was an estate in the Willett family in England awaiting claimants; that he had been over to get it and found, that he was not an heir, but that the rightfull heirs were Willetts who had settled in New Jersey at a place called Willetts-town. A letter to the author from Rev J. Willett the Baptist minister who founded the Fort Lee Home did not mention this estate but stated that he was from England and that at his death his branch would become extinct.

Third: Capt. Willett of Washington D.C. claims there is a Willett Castle in England, to which American descendants are heirs. He had a large oil painting of the Willett arms. (See Augustus page 2)

He was also Vicar of Childerby and Grantsden, Cambridgeshire, and of Barley, Leicestershire[1], and Chaplin to Prince Henry. He remained Rector of Barley 23 years. He was a man of great learning and was called "The Walking Library". He wrote over forty treatises. Beside the "Synopsis Papismo"[2] highly praised by Cotton Mather, he wrote many commentaries on the bible most excellent in their penetration and judgement. The title page of one of these books[3] is illustrated herein in a full page tracing. A copy of one of these old books is in the possession of the author and there is another copy in the Rhode Island Historical Society's Library, which formerly belonged to Charles I and bears his coat-of-arms. In 1589 he married Jacobina Goad, daughter of Rev Thomas Goad D.D. of Kings College, Cambridge. He died at Hodson[4] and was buried in the parish church, Dec 8 1621. With the exception of those of Thomas who was the American emigrant, we have found no consecutive record of the descendants of the children of Rev Andrew Willet. But before passing on to that line we will note those unconnected Willetts found of record in England

Ralph Willett b. 1720 was the great grand son of Henry Willett a relative of Rev Andrew Willet, (probably through his son Henry) purchased in 1751, the property of Merley which became famous for its library. He died in 1795, in his 75th year. He published "Description of Library at Mereley House, Dorchester, the seat of Ralph Willett, Esq 1776." This Library is described in Nichols' Literary Anneedotes Vol. VIII, 2-8.

2(3) Thomas Willett (Rev Andrew 1) Born 29th August 1605 as it is recorded in the Parish Church at Barley, England. One of eighteen children of the well known Dr Andrew Willet Rector of Barley, and Jacobina (Goad) Willet, and grandson of the former Rector, Thomas Willet, D.D., brought up in the cloistered atmosphere of Established Church, he seems early to have held opinions of of his own, and to have settled for himself the question of religion; for at an early age, 16 or 18 perhaps, he left England for Leyden, Holland, and became an active member of the "Leyden Congregation". After two or three years there, feeling that even at Leyden the desired religious liberty was not fully enjoyed he decided to seek it in the new country of America to which the Dutch were emigrating. Some of them went in the May-flower on its first voyage in 1620, but it was not until 1629-30 that Thomas Willett sailed in the "Lion" for Plymouth, at the age of 19 or 20. Some make the date 1632. In the narrative of Governor William Bradford it is 1629 and his age 19.

His honesty and streightforward business habits soon settled him in Plymouth and Swansea as a merchant and trader. On the 6th of July 1636 he married Mary Brown, daughter of John and Dorothy Brown of Plymouth. About this time he obtained a grant of 100 acres of land on Jones river. Known as "the honest young man from Leyden", he obtained a good position as assistant to Agent Ashley the trader his duty being "to keep Ashley in bounds". He was made Captain of a company of military in 1647, and from 1651 to 1664 was a magistrate in Plymouth. He became a shipowner and traded with the Dutch at New Amsterdam, by whom he was much liked although an englishman his residence in Leyden making him familiar with the language and the people of Holland and his mild and fair treatment of them in trading gained him their regard. That he was deeply religious is evident from the story that indians conspiring to attact his warehouse, seeing him deeply engaged in reading his bible with a solemn and studious air became alarmed and told their companions that he had discovered their plot by reading in his magic book.

When the english conquored the dutch at new Amsterdam; Thomas Willett was the only englishman they would consent to arbitrate with, and he persuaded Stuyvesant to give up. On June 12 1665 Thomas Willett was made the first english mayor of the future New York City, then a small town of a few narrow streets south of Wall street lined with small thatched cottages and some handsome big dutch buildings, the balance of the town being big dutch farms or "bouwaries". It was then, as now, a cosmopolitan town, eighteen different languages being spoken. His administration was mild and equable, favorable as well to the dutch as to the english, and free from "graft". His wife died 8th January 1669, and on September 19 1671, he married Mrs Joanna Prudden* widow of Rev Peter Prudden of Milford Conn. Two years later the Dutch retook New Amsterdam and Willett retired to Barrington R.I. where he died the year following, August 4 1674, aged 64. He was buried in Bullocks Cove Cemetery Swansea R.I. beside his first wife. His head and footstones, six inches thick are illustrated on another page. The inscription on his wife's gravestones reads as follows: headstone, "1669. Here lyeth ye body of the virtvovs mrs. Mary Willett wife to thomas Willett esq, who died January ye 8th about ye 65th year of her age, anno"; footstone, "Daughter to the worll John Brown esq, Deceased."

The signature of Hon Thomas Willett appears at the head hereof, and the only words of his recorded are in reference to a good clerk, of whom he said: "He is never in the way nor ever out of the way." A year after his death, his town was laid in ashes by Indians and his son Hezikiah killed. His Will was proved November 25 1674. The executors were his sons James, Hezikiah, Andrew, and Samuel. He states that he is blessed with several children and a liberal estate. His english blood prompted him to instruct his sons not to sell the land out of the name of Willett. It was unamerican and today no Willett owns any of it. His estate inventoried about twelve thousand dollars and was divided in a mixed way among his children except a few legacies to friends. He was a large landholder, but in those days land was cheap.

* She afterward married Rev John Bishop

Such was the man who is supposed to stand at the head of the Willett family in America. It is claimed that other heads of branches came from England, which will be taken up in the proper place; but even if such be the fact, it is quite probable that they could trace back to Thomas Willet his father or grand father. He had no children by his second wife. By his first wife he had 13, as follows:

Very little account is found of this Willett. He was Sheriff of Queens County. There has been a number children credited to him but who were more likely those of Thomas and Sarah (Cornell) Willett of Flushing L.I. as will be noted in its proper place. He had land left him in Rhode Island by his father, and may have removed there. It is not known whom he married, and there is a family tradition among the Willetts of Middlesex Co N.J. that he was the Samuel Willett who was a landholder and innkeeper at Wakoke Monmouth county N.J. in 1700. As no records have as yet been found by which this can be declared, the tradition must go for what it is worth. From a circumstance, noted farther on, the author has been inclined to believe these Middlesex and Monmouth county Willetts to be descendants of Col Thomas Willett of Flushing as another tradition makes them descendants of an Abraham Willett, the name of a son and grandson of Col Thomas Willett. Any information that will throw light on this matter will be gratefully received by the author. We think however, that we may credit Samuel with,

Dorothy Quincy*, daughter of Dorothy Flint Quincy and grand-daughter of Esther Willett Flint, married Edward Jackson of a noted family of that day and their daughter, Mary Jackson, married Oliver Wendell son of Jacob Wendell and Sarah Oliver. Mary's daughter, Sarah Wendell, married Rev Abial Holmes the historian and their son was Oliver Wendell Holmes, the Poet. Wendell Phillips the noted lecturer was also a relative.

Elizabeth Quincy, sister of Dorothy, married John Wendell nephew of Jacob Wendell. John's son, John Wendell was a correspondent of Washington, and entertained John Paul Jones at his home in Portsmouth. His son enlisted under John Paul Jones.

In 1871 Oliver Wendell Holmes, the great grandson of Dorothy Quincy, wrote the following poem, suggested by an old family portrait of his great grandmother

"Dorothy Q.

A Family Portrait

I cannot tell the story of Dorothy Q more simply in prose than I have told it in verse,

* See Appendix VI

but I can add something to it. Dorothy was the daughter of Judge Edmond Quincy and neice of Josiah Quincy, Jr. the young patriot and orator who died just before the American Revolution, of which he was one of the most eloquent and effective promotors.

The canvass of the painting was so much decayed that it had to be replaced by a new one, in doing which the rapier-thrust was of course filled

Grandmother's mother: her age, I guess,
Thirteen summers, or something less;
Girlish bust, but womanly air;
Smooth, square forehead with uprolled hair;
Lips that lover had never kissed;
Taper fingers and slender wrist;
Hanging sleeves of stiff brocade;
So they painted the little maid.

On her hand a parrot green
Sits unmoving and broods serene.
Hold up the canvass full in view, –
Look! there's a rent the light shines through,
Dark with a century's fringe of dust, –
That was a Red-Coat's rapier thrust!
Such is the tale the lady old,
Dorothy's daughter's daughter told.

Who the painter was none may tell,—
One whose best was not over well;
Hard and dry, it must be confessed,
Flat as a rose that has long been pressed;
Yet in her cheek the hues are bright,
Dainty colors of red and and white,
And in her slender shape are seen
Hint and promise of stately mien.

Look not on her with eyes of scorn,—
Dorothy Q. was a lady born!
Aye! since the galloping Normans came,
England's annals have known her name;
And still to the three-hilled rebel town
Dear is that ancient name's renown,
For many a civic wreath they won,
The youthfull sire and the gray-haired son.

O Damsel Dorothy! Dorothy Q!
Strange is the gift I owe to you;
Such is a gift as never a king
Save to a daughter or son might bring,—
All my tenure of heart and and hand,
All my title to house and land;
Mother and sister, child and wife
And joy and sorrow and death and life!

What if a hundred years ago

Those close-shut lips had answered No,
When forth the tremulous question came
That cost the maiden her Norman name,
And under the folds that look so still
The bodice swelled with the bosom's thrill?
Should I be I, or would it be
One tenth another to nine tenths me?

Soft is the breath of a maiden's Yes:
Not the light gossamer stirs with less;
But never a cable that holds so fast
Through all the battles of wave and blast,
And never an echo of speech or song
That lives in the babbling air so long!
There were tones in the voice that whispered then
You may hear to-day in a hundred men.

O Lady and Lover, how faint and far
Your image hovers - and here we are,
Solid and stirring in flesh and bone, -
Edward's and Dorothy's - all their own, -
A goodly record for Time to show
Of a syllable spoken so long ago! -
Shall I bless you, Dorothy, or forgive
For the tenderer whisper that bade me live?

It shall be a blessing, my little maid
I will heal the stab of the Red-Coat's blade,

And freshen the gold of the tarnished frame,
And gild with a rhyme your household name;
So you shall smile on us brave and bright
As first you greeted the morning light,
And live untroubled by woes and fears
Through a second youth of a hundred years."

With the exception of those of Thomas and Francis, sons of Andrew(2), Samuel son of Hon Thomas and of Thomas son of James(1), we have reached the end of the male or Willett descendants of Mayor Thomas Willett. Thomas son of Andrew lived 30 years but has no record of marriage. Francis married has no record of issue. Samuel we are in doubt about without records, and we find no record of Thomas son of James marrying. The male issue then must depend on Samuel. Some Willett branch now in the dark may trace back to him - perhaps the new Jersey branch before mentioned

There is also the other supposition, that Mayor Thomas Willett's son Thomas born 1646 did not die unmarried as reported but had issue. In support of this theory we have the statement of one authority that he was major of Militia in Queens Co L.I. and another that he was Sheriff on Long Island. Against this we have the fact that the fathers Will does not mention a son Thomas.

If Samuel moved to Monmouth county N.J. and was the Wakake innkeeper, then we have a long line of descendants through him, to the credit of Mayor Thomas Willett. Who has any records to prove the descendants of this Samuel Willett born 1658 or of his brother born 1646. or of Thomas son of his brother James, born 1681, or of Thomas and Francis, born 1696 and 1693, sons of his brother Andrew? Bolton's History gives Samuel one son b 1701 who lived 93 years and had 13 children.

m. Sarah Cornell* daughter of Thomas Cornell of Cornells Neck. She afterward married Charles Bridges in 1647 and John Lawrence Jr. in 1682

The Memorial History of New York says "Mayor Thomas Willett had children, 1st Col Thomas living in New York in 1667 had 2 sons, William and Thomas" This gives color to the supposition that this Thomas Willett belonged to the Mayor Willett branch. Bergen, in his "Early Settlers of Kings County" says "Thomas Willett was High Sheriff of Queens County in 1688, and was probably a son of Mayor Thomas Willett". He was, however, speaking of Col. Thomas as the above Thomas died in 1645. Appleton's Cyclopedia of Biography says that Thomas Willett, son of Mayor Thomas, born at Plymouth 1646 was a Major of Militia of Queens County L.I.. Bolton's History says "In 1709 Thomas Willett of Flushing L.I., son of Hon Thomas Willett of N.Y. conveyed to his eldest son, William, Cornells Neck afleward called Willetts Point. In 1731 William left it to his heirs. In 1745 Isaac Willett conveyed it to Isaac and Lewis Graham. × × × Mayor Willett's second son was Col. Queens county L.I. His son was born 1701. had thirteen children and died at 93.

It will be seen that dates and names are so mixed up in the foregoing as to make it somewhat uncertain.

The Documentary History of New York notes the suspension of Col. Willett from the Council for concealing pirate money in 1698

The N.Y. Genealogical and Biographical Record says that Thomas Willett of Flushing married Sara Cornell and had a son Thomas baptized in the Dutch Church of New York Nov 26 1645 who married Helena Stoothoff. Now if that is true then the elder Thomas could not have been a son of Mayor Thomas as he must have been born about the same time and before Mayor Willett came to America. This might dispose of the theory of the "Bristol" Thomas being a son of the Mayor: but its a curious fact that Col Thomas Willett who married Helena Stoothoff was baptized in 1645 the year that Mayor Thomas is said to have had a son Thomas who is said to have died young. Did he? Thompson's History of Long Island says that Thomas Willett elected to the Assembly in 1710-1726 was the eldest son of Thomas Willett first Mayor of New York, and was member of the Council from 1677 to 1692.

If we make Col. Thomas Willett to be the son of mayor Thomas, then what becomes of "Bristol" Thomas and Sarah Cornell who had a son Thomas? Did he settle in Rhode Island as some claim. If so what has become of his descendants? Now the list of the inhabitants of Flushing in 1698 contains the names of two families of Willetts - Thomas and Helena his wife and 4 sons and 2 daughters. Elbert, Cornelius, Abraham, John, Alena and Elizabeth: and Thomas Willett and Sarah his wife and daughter Sarah. Who was this Thomas and Sarah? Not Bristol Thomas and Sarah Cornell, for they had no daughter Sarah and Thomas was dead 50 years before. It may have been a son of Col Thomas and Helena, who was born about 1670 and married _____(Sarah?) To put this queston of the mixed Thomases in shape for the genealogical student we give a tabulated statement of extracts from different authorities on the subject.

Open and anxious for correction and information we are at present obliged to make a temporary decision upon the evidence presented and will therefore begin this branch with the Bristol Eng. Thomas Willett. In 1655 Thomas Pitt of Bristol Eng. left a legacy to his sister Martha Willett and his brother (Bro-in-law?) William Willett. This William Willett and Martha (Pitt) Willett may have been the parents of the Tobie Willett who came to America in the ship "Planticon" in 1632: and this Tobie may have been the "Bristol" Thomas who married Sarah Cornell. (See Appendix d)

Richard Hartshorne, the probable father of William, came from London in 1669 and the following year gained possession of the land now known as Atlantic Highlands. He built his first colonial residence at Navesink Creek, but about 1687 erected his manor house on his Highland Estate, a large part of which still remains in the Hartshorne family and is known as Portland Manor. In 1703 Richard Hartshorne gave this estate to his son William and this was the home of Helena Willett Hartshorne.

They had a son Thomas who married Mary Smith, and had a daughter, Margaret. A grandson, Thomas, son of Thomas and Mary, is buried in the Old Monmouth burying ground at Middletown N.J. as are several Willetts who

Colonel Willett was one of the prominent men of his time. He was born at Jamaica July 31 (OS) 1740 and died Aug 23 1830. He the youngest of six sons of Edward Willett a farmer of Queens Co. (We have no record of his brothers. has anyone?) In 1758 he joined Col. DeLancy's regiment as a lieutenant. As 1st Lieutenant of "The Bold Foresters" he wore as a uniform, a short green coat and small round hat with one side turned up and a brass plate in front containing the word "Freedom". They carried hatchets on their backs. In 1776 he was made Lt Colonel and in 1792 Brig. General. He was Sheriff and Mayor of New York in 1807. In 1824 he was a presidential elector and president of the electoral college. He was 91 years of age when he died. He was particularly active as an Indian fighter and was the hero of the Sharon Springs fight in which as the commander of a small troop of State militia he won one of the hardest battles of the N.Y. frontier. His defense of that part of the state now known as counties of Albany, Schenectady, Oneida, Schoharie, Montgomery, Otsego, Herkimer, Tioga, Fulton and Ontario against Indian depredation, which won him a sword from Congress, is about to be memorialized by the Daughters of American Revolution by the erection in Albany of a high granite monument. A portrait sketch of Col. Willett appears on another page.

/ (5) Col. Augustine Willett (Samuel 1) b 1751

In this Colonel Willett we have another such a striking military figure, similar to Col. Marinus Willett. Hitherto he has not been properly placed in history as has been his contemporary. It is my privilege to place in the public light this patriotic and stately Continental officer, and to add one more name to the roster of the Willetts who took a prominent part with Washington in the struggle for a nation's freedom. He was born in Bucks county, Pa. where he died in 1824. At the outbreak of the war he raised and equipped, at his own expense, a company of Pennsylvanians and joined the army as Captain, afterward appointed to a command as Colonel. He took part in the battles of White Plains, Brandywine, Germantown, and Trenton, was with Washington at Valley Forge, and was commissioned Brigadier General in the peace establishment. He was with Arnold in the terrible march to Quebec in the winter of 1775, had his feet badly frozen and was taken prisoner after the death of Montgomery. He commanded the troops which received General Washington on crossing the Delaware on his return south in 1797 and escorted him to the Philadelphia line.

Many old people remember seeing the Colonel's imposing figure on his white war horse followed by his black body-servant Priam, on a black horse. His military coat and hat, side arms, rapier and pistols are now in the possession of one of his desceneants and will soon be placed in custody of the Bucks Co Historical Society. There is also a picture of Col. Willett, but it is so faint from lapse of time that so far a copy has not been secured for this Book.*

Branch C

As it has not yet been fully proven whether this branch connects with Samuel Willett, son of Mayor Willett or with Col Thomas Willett of Flushing, we have, for convenience of study, treated it as a seperate branch.

In what is now South Brunswick Township, Middlesex County, New Jersey, and near the city of New Brunswick, there was born about 1740, a Samuel Willett. He and his sons Samuel and Hartshorne and daughter Jemima lived on a farm lately owned by a Mr Smith on the Rhode Hall road and the father died on the Housell farm on the Milltown road and was buried in the family burying-ground on the Smith farm. All that section from Rhode Hall to South River was owned by the Willetts at that time, and South River was known as Willettstown or Shepherds Landing. It is 6 miles from New Brunswick to the Smith farm, 3 miles to the Housell farm, and 5 miles to South River.

We find the following records of the name of Samuel and William Willett in

Monmouth and Middlesex Counties New Jersey from 1700 to 1800

1700 Samuel Willett appears in Monmouth county and innkeeper at Wakake. He had 120 acres of land at Shrewsbury. He was a landholder in 1678 and had a cattle-mark registered in the Town Book of of Middletown 1676. His son William was administrator of his Will in 1762 and is supposed to be the father of William, who owned the fording place on Lemmington river.

1752 Samuel W Willett of Readington N.J. m. Sarah Tilton 1752

1790 Samuel Willett M.D. son of William, of German Valley N.J. m Sarah Carlisle.

1820 Samuel Willett son of Samuel of German Valley

1720 William Willett owned a mill at Pottersville N.J.

1761 William Willett m Penelope Wyckoff 1786

1786 William Willett son of abver m Mary Carlisle

As to dates, Samuel of Wakake could have been father of Samuel of Willetistown, as could also William son of Col Thomas Willett of Flushing of whose descendants we have no record. Samuel Willett of Readington born 1730 who married Sarah Tilton of Freehold could have been Samuel Sr of Willettstown. It is traditional in this branch of the family that Samuel Sr was son of William Willett. If this is true, then Samuel of Wakake could not be an ancestor unless his son William was old enough to be the father of Samuel Sr of Willetts town. Even granting this, who was Samuel of Wakake? Possibly the youngest son of Mayor Willett, but in that case he would have been 104 years old when he died in 1762 which is not impossible but rather improbable.

Helena Willett daughter of Col Thomas Willett of Flushing, as has been stated married William Hartshorne of Monmouth county N.J. and lived there near Wakake. She had a brother William. Samuel Willett Sr of Willettstown named one of his sons Hartshorn, the only time it appears in the family indicating the probability of this Samuel to be closely related to Helena Willett Hartshorne. If, as we think, Samuel Sr was son of William brother of Helena, her husband William Hartshorne would have* uncle to Samuel Sr and he might have named his son for him; but would have hardly have chosen such an unusual name for any other reason. This is our position but it is without documentary proof and is open to correction. We therefor make this branch temporarially a seperate one heading it with,

Judge Booraem was a public officer of Middlesex Co. N.J. of sturdy probity and honor. He was County Surveyor, Sheriff and Judge, and held the offices of County Clerk and Collector for 36 and 44 years respectively. He was a prominent figure in the "Broad Seal Controversy" of 1837 when through his refusal to perform an unlawful act, the National Congress remained unorganized all Winter. Hung in effigy by disappointed politicians and his life repeatedly threatened, he went calmly on his way, fearing no man, conscious of having performed what he conceived to be his duty. He died in 1849 respected by all respectable men of all parties.

Branch D

This is probably a continuation of Branch C; but as we have as yet no records to prove it, we, for convenience make it a seperate branch. We know that Samuel Willett, the Waikake innkeeper in 1700, had a son William, born perhaps about 1720, who was his father's executor some forty or fifty years later. It is most likely he was the William who owned the mill at Potterville N.J. and who left a son and two daughters in New Jersey when he removed with the rest of his family to New York State: these three children probably being married and settled being the reason for their remaining. So we begin this branch as follows:

1 (1) Samuel Willett (?) b 1670? owner of 120 acres of land and Inn-keeper at Waikake N.J. 1700

M _____ _____

Issue

1 (2) William Willett (Samuel 1) b 1720?

M- Hannah Foster

He owned a mill at Potterville N.J. on the north branch of the Raritan river in Hunterdon county. During the Revolutionary war he furnished the Continental army with grain taking continental money in payment, which act of patriotism ruined him, and he removed with his family except a son and two daughters to New York State - probably to Onondaga county. We fenel a family there about that time whose descendants trace by tradition to New Jersey and Flushing

In 1786 there was a John Willett living in Plainfield N.J. As no record of him has been found there, it is supposed he was born elsewhere. There is a family tradition that he came from Scotland but it is quite possible that he may have belonged to one of the numerous Willett families of that part of New Jersey. We start with:

It is known that there were Willetts in Accomac County Va and in Northampton Co, prior to 1695. There was a Willett marriage performed before 1669 and William Willett appears as guardian in this family in 1703. So he may be considered a son of that marriage. The original emigrant to Virginia was probably,

I (1) John Willett (?) b 1598?

He may have been the son of Richard Willett of England and cousin of Mayor Willett. However, he was in Virginia in 1642 and,

M. Elizabeth Douglass 1660

(There were other Willetts of record in this section probably collaterally. William born 1790, Waitman who married Betsey Waite, 1829 and was a soldier 1834. Charles A, who married Margaret Quirm 1844. Anna who married Smith Wilson 1816. John, son of William, who married Sally Hurst 1821, and Widow Nancy Willett who married John B Edwards 1806.)

The next two generations we have no record of, but the probable grandson was:

1(1) Francis Willett (?) b_ 1634? Newbury Mass.

He is supposed to have come from England, but it is not of record. He was in Newbury Mass. 1634 and must have been quite young then, as he married in 1649 which would make him 35 years of age if he was born in 1634. If that was his birth date then he probably did not come from England though his father may. There is no Willett known to have come over before 1629. He might have been the son of Tobie Willett who came in 1632, and whose descendants we do not find_ unless he was "Bristol" Thomas. As this is only speculation, we start this branch with, Francis.

1) Richard Willets

of Long Island is said to have come from Bristol or other West England port. Nothing seems to be known of him except that he was in the town of Hempstead L.I. in 1657 and was Surveyor of highways in 1659. There was a Richard Willetts a merchant in New York and an officer of Trinity Church in 1699, possibly the same man. or it may have been his son Richard, who would have been a man of 40 at that time. It is quite a possibility that he may have been a son of Rev Andrew Willet of Barley, whose name has not been recorded and who may have named for his uncle the brother of Andrew, Richard. This has been the opinion of the writer; but as there is no documentary evidence of it, the matter is left for future investigation, and Richard is made the head of a seperate branch.

It is a curious fact that however he may have spelled his name, about one half of his descendants spell it Willets and the other half Willits, except a few who spell it Willetts or Willette. Richard Willets died about 1664

In taking up the descendants of the ther two sons of Richard and Mary (Washburne) illets, Hope and Richard, it is done seperate- from the foregoing for the reason that the ma- rity of them spell the name Willits. It is not ought, however, that the spelling was changed ; either Hope or Richard.

Branch K

1[7] John Willet (?) b. 1591? Wales

M. ____ ____

Here we have another branch of the Willet family, and one that has preserved the original spelling of Willet. The emigrant, John Willet who is said to have come from Wales to Boston in 1630, is claimed by some of his descendants to have been the son of Rev. Andrew Willet of Barley, and brother of Mayor Thomas Willett. This is the same claim that is made for Richard of Hempstead the head of Branch J, and it is not impossible nor improbable. Rev. Andrew Willet had a large family of 18 children and was not rich, and as he died in 1621 when the youngest was about four or five years old and the eldest thirty, it is quite likely that the family scattered and more than one got the fever of emigration to America. It is quite as likely however, that he was the son John of Richard Willet son of Rev Thomas and brother of Andrew, making him nephew of Andrew and cousin of Mayor Thomas. This John was born 1591 and would have been about 40 in 1630. If he was a son of Rev Andrew, he must have been the unrecorded son and between 1593 and 1598. If the missing child was a son and was named John, that would dispose of the theory that it was Richard of Hempstead, and if not it might put John where we have, as the son of Richard Willet son of Thomas Willet D.D. and cousin to Mayor Willett. As we have no proofs, however, we leave it open.

As the son of the Welsh emigrant as given us did not marry until 1719 and was presumably not over 30 he must have been born about 1690 or 1695 which would make John Sr marry about that time, and if he was 30, would make him born about 1660 or 70 years later than it should be to make him the son of Richard or Rev Andrew. If he was the son of either, then there must be a generation between the two Johns that is lacking.

It may be objected that if mayor Willett was a cousin or brother of John or of Richard or both, the relationship would be shown by some record of their intercourse; but it must be remembered that much that happened then was unrecorded and much that was recorded was distroyed. As they all had children, their brothers and cousins were not likely to receive mention in their Wills.

The fact that John came from Wales is not against our theory, for it would have been as natural for John to come to America via. Wales as for Thomas to come via Holland. Hoping that proof positive will yet be found to clear of the english ancestry, we, for the present place John at the head of branch K

a. From 1591 to April 19 1598 - granted by Queen Elizabeth.

From "Gleanings in England" Mr J. W. Thornton says that the Rev Mr Gordon the Rector of Barley near Royston, county Leicester copied and sent a transcript of the Parish records as regards the Willet family. This record is shown herein. As Royston is in County of Herts the Leicester above mentioned must be a mistake

b. Mr Thornton says also that Thomas Willett came from Leyden in 1629 with Allerton, as his fellow in some sort, not as a servant.

c. The inscription on Mayor Thomas Willett's headstone seems to be inaccurate as it states that he died in 1674 aged 64. That would make him born 1611 when we know he was born in 1605. Mrs Willett's inscription, as is well known is inaccurate, as the date, 1699, would be long after the death of her husband and would make her born the year she was married. 1666 is probably correct and we so put it.

d. The Parish record of St Warburgh, Bristol England has the names Willet and Willis applied to the same person. Richard Willis was Church warden in 1618-37 and Thomas Willet or Willis, son of Thomas, was baptized there in 1620. This might be Tobie or Capt Thomas Willett of Flushing L.I.

e. The "Synopsis Papismo" was a work of 1300 pages, was dedicated to Queen Elizabeth, and went through five editions. It was said to be the best refutation of Popery ever written.

f. Henry, through his loyalty to Charles I lost his fortune

g. Mr Saffin who married Mayor Thomas Willett's daughter, wrote on the death of his father-in-law, as follows:

"Here lies grave Willett whose good name
Did mount upon the wings of fame;
Who into place did not intrude,
When star of the first magnitude;
But prudence, piety and zeal

For God in church and commonweal,
His real worth and generous spirit,
Which constantly he did inherit,
His hospitality and love,
His courteous carriage, like a dove
Did so excell that all might see
He had attaind to the first of three.
Now he hence gone to his long home
And taken from the ill to come
Lived here desired, lamented died
Is with his saviour glorified"

Of Mrs Willett he said -

"Had Venus, Pallas, Diana and the Graces Compared with her, should all have lost their places"

h. Moses and Job Willets were imprisoned in the Lancaster Por jail as Tories during the Revolution, and after the war they went to Canada where Job married and had a daughter who married a Mr Bowne. Job and Moses were probably brothers; but of what parents we have not been able to discover. A Job Willets married Charity daughter of David Willets. Was it this Job?
